Emma Fisher Some times washing hair isn't possible. I've often used dry shampoo when I've woke up in the morning and thought it needing sprousing up with out time for a shower. Or at a festival

Aussie Hair ✓ We totally agree Emma! 😊 xo

Amanda Jones I've currently got stitches in my head and can't wash my hair for a week! This could be the answer!!!!

Like · Reply · Message · 🗨️ 1 · July 7 at 10:01am

Aussie Hair ✓ Yes this could be great! Hope you're doing well girl xo

Hollie Jenn Kerry Pearson you're one of those then. 'Customer is always right'. Oh bugger off, you've clearly never worked in retail love.

Like · Reply · Message · 🗨️👍👎 13 · July 9 at 9:18am

Heidi Groves Hollie Jennings I'm with you on that one, it's more a case of some customers insist they are always right so retailers go along with it to get them off their back lol

Debi Jones Dry shampoo is very good for an occasional quick fix, but nothing beats actually washing your hair. 😊

Like · Reply · Message · July 14 at 3:41am

Aussie Hair ✓ The full wash really does make a world of difference but sometimes you're just too busy being fabulous! 😊 xo

Jane Smith Aussie Hair I use it to sprouse my fringe up as I wash my hair every other day. By the way, I've used your mega shampoo and deep conditioner for years as I've never found any other products that come close as good as yours ❤️

Gemma Swales Aussie Hair , I used this in my life, mainly because I forgot my hair last week because I had no time to wash and dry it and I had no dry shampoo or clear dry shampoo (even better!!) I rocked grey roots for easily half a day. I love it 🙌
